Dear Prof. Michelle Capasso,

Words are not enough to express my gratitude for having been selected recipient of The Mediterranean Award with other distinguished awardees for the year 2024. I felt humbled by such recognition and proud at the same time bringing honor to ICESCO, my country and the Member States I represent.

I received this distinct award with the people that I served in mind and was truly delighted that our Organization's efforts were recognized by an eminent awards body, The United States of the World and The Fondazione Mediterraneo. This will further inspire us to do more on behalf of the Islamic world and beyond.

The Foundation you lead has conferred several awards in many spheres of achievements since 1996 and has since then been regarded as among the most prestigious awards at the international level. With over 600 awards from the time of its inception, We are more than grateful to become part of an elite crop of people who received this magnanimous award. And for this, we will forever be beholden to the awards body and its institution.

Also, a personal appreciation from myself, my wife, and my daughter for touring us at the Foundation Headquarters and for the sumptuous dinner you hosted for us afterward at your lovely house which I considered more of a museum with its intricate ornamentations, cultural relics and its history.

I reiterate my invitation to you and your lovely wife to visit ICESCO Headquarters in Rabat, Morocco at your convenience to discuss future collaborations between our organizations. Moreover, me and my wife would be pleased to host a dinner for both of you at our place in this beautiful city.

Again, on behalf of the Islamic World Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (ICESCO) and myself, our bountiful appreciation for the Mediterranean Award's Totem of Peace and the title of Ambassador of the United States of the World.

Thank you.

Most respectfully,

Dr. Salim M. Almalik
